

I urge the FCC to preserve the media ownership rules as they currently stand. The preservation of a free press absolutely depends on strict rules and regulations governing ownership. Media consolidation and conglomeration have already significantly reduced the number of voices present in today's media. Please do not relax existing rules any further!